Keeneland Race 2

Analysis by Emily Gullikson

#10 CODE RUNNER returns to Keeneland fresh for Hugo Rodriguez. He turned in a competitive race under similar conditions over this course back in October and since has held his form with some subtle trips prior to the layoff in the Turfway starts.

#6 STREETWHEREYOULIVE is worth a look at a price in this race. She must improve in the face of her more established rivals, though has more to show off the debut (TACTIC- PREP) over this course last year and appears intended coming back off the layoff. There was intent to run at this route, 8.5f distance keying off a scratch back in November at CD. She comes into this race with steady works and holding best over her mate in the morning.
