Handicapping Analysis
Sun October 26th, 2025

Emily's Analysis

Hawthorne Race 1

Post Time 2:43 PM CST

Analysis by Emily Gullikson

Looking forward to the return of #3 PETRONIA STREET following the EX – EXCUSE trip on debut last month – 9/28. She made a positive PRERACE+ appearance from there a BTL effort noting the legitimate TROUBLES+ taking KICKBACK in hand NO_PUSH and continued to GALLOP+ out well after the wire. It is encouraging to see her right back and with a recorded work since on 10/12.

From that same common race #2 CLOUDY LASS also made a positive PRERACE+ appearance showed run forced to RUSH after a TROUBLE_S into a POCKET trip making a MOVE behind pacesetting winner. Special Sauce. CLOUDY LASS recording a B- OptixGRADE gives them the slight edge over #6 MOTOWN SOUND though to be fair one that also had TROUBLE in running, less than ideal rider TACTIC- and showed run on the day similar to the 9/7 PREP debut, more than perhaps the running line and finishing position suggests.

Hawthorne Race 2

Post Time 3:14 PM CST

Analysis by Emily Gullikson

#4 MOM'S PALACE appears to hold the pace advantage with their early speed and a threat on that front forwardly placed. That pace advantage could be key as #7 BUTTONS AND LACE has the class edge while the two are similar on figures. BUTTONS AND LACE comes out of the higher par events, including a massive effort in the Hawthorne Derby making a strong middle BURST. With those factors on her side she will still be tested with today's cutback in distance, an unknown in this case shortening up to 5.5f.

Class wise #6 MISS MIKOS held her own under similar conditions earlier this season. Both of the turf sprints over a Good rated turf course noting a WIDE MOVE while in against open company on 6/27 followed up with another WIDE trip though B- OptixGRADE effort on 7/13.

Hawthorne Race 3

Post Time 3:44 PM CST

Analysis by Emily Gullikson

#1 TIZ CHINA showed the ability to pass horses while forced to overcome adversity in her races to date. That goes back to the debut with the RUSH and slight in running TROUBLE, similar though quick to overcome with the 8/17 MSW win. The significant contact at the break (TROUBLES+) was compromising when paired with TROUBLE soon after and showed run to close ground on their pacesetting stablemate Biagoddess. That ability to show versatility along with class presents the edge over fellow L. Rivelli stablemate #3 SPIRITED ANNE.

In terms of the T. Padilla stablemates #6 DIXI SO FAST does not bring in as much foundation as #5 NANCY'S SHAWL though the one start when breaking their maiden on debut gives a look in this spot stepping up to take on winner. While able to rate and rally, there was no strong setup – DIXI SO FAST moved up after breaking a step SLOG and MOVE outside horses and had to outduel the BOS place finisher, Run Your Mouth.

#2 QUICK SAND will look to play spoiler to the uncoupled barnmate rivals bringing in a positive form cycle pattern, foundation and lateral change in class from where they have been competitive. The turf start last month given the X_FLOW upgrade and perhaps that assists today as a "speed of the speed" threat though still could have to show a dimension of passing horses or prevailing with pace pressure something they must prove.

Hawthorne Race 4

Post Time 4:14 PM CST

Analysis by Emily Gullikson

While perhaps not always the most desired outcome, tough to find a “bad” race from #1 UNCASHED throughout their career. The 10x winner in 21 starts speaks for itself and upgraded from the minor or even off the board finishes often X_FLOW upgrades. They comes into this race fresh, something of a potential edge along with intent as entered and scratched from 10/15 starter allowance (7f) on 10/15 at KEE, a race won by the owns other horse Pinfire on the day.

UNCASHED brings in early speed from the rail and even with main pace pressure challenger just to their outside in #2 DOCTOR OSCAR, the Q1 position/shape gives the rail runner the edge through still not an easy task, UNCASHED tested in that role and with their main rivals looking to stalk-and-pounce.

That tracking trip was key back on 8/24 for #6 DEVIL’S TOWER to “upset” UNCASHED on the day – though notable the race set up for them with the Fire/60 SpeedRate, though not unlike today’s dynamic with the Sun/71 with the Large mid-Plot Square representation here. That position with finishing ability (Square) holds the edge over stablemate #4 LUNGBERG though should find a similar trip and even some upside with the second off start and back races/speed on par. That pair also with the class edge over similarly positioned #5 SIR STERLING stepping up off a new cycle top three weeks ago with the BOS win.

Hawthorne Race 5

Post Time 4:46 PM CST

Analysis by Emily Gullikson

#1 RIVER REDEMPTION should hold value in this full field and overlooked off the recent finishing position. They find a subtle change in Plot position post while a rider change in play with J. Felix aboard. Today’s race shape and Q2 Square is similar to when closing out with a win near the end of the meet last October.

L. Colon sticks with #6 HAWKS CREEK a logical contender back under similar conditions and holding form this seasons returning placed where they can compete. They had some excuse in July coming off the win with the TACTIC- and SLOG and following up with a legitimate EX – EXCUSE (TROUBLE X_WIDE) on 9/7 to upgrade and rebound with the 9/21 win. Some of those “trips” are likely playing a role in their Plot position/shape today positioned as a Q4 Square and not one that is a true closer in the way often presented by rival #5 SILVER QUARTERS.

In terms of the Plot and Surface/Distance #9 SHANKAR is upgraded and holds that perhaps hidden edge over fellow pacesetting rivals, #2 WICKED SURPRISE and #4 HAPPY CAT. Form cycle and intent should follow SHAKAR as well getting the start off the layoff on 10/5, a spin over the course and familiarity with today’s river, S. Gonzalez.

#3 SYNTACTIC also should hold higher odds and perhaps some intent as they return to the turf and in this second start of the Hawthorne meet. They find a significant change in class nothing a much higher par in the race last month (9/25) as well as the higher par from the CBY series of races with E. Gallardo taking over as well. The change in par is also notable for the consistent #7 EYE DEE KAY one that will transition to the turf though should hold form as they have been able to handle the grass and two turns in the past with number consistent to those they are currently posting.

Hawthorne Race 6

Post Time 5:13 PM CST

Analysis by Emily Gullikson

Even with MTO, #11 LADY HELENA on the sidelines, the early pace projects to be both contested early (Sun) and honest 80 SpeedRate with more than half of the field aboard the ParLine. In that case it could be a bit of a risk with a “Circle” though the Plot position might be the key when paired with the rail draw for #1 GET N TIPSY to give longshot consideration. She could be upgraded with the “every other” return to the mile as well as from the recent race shapes and subtle trips while picking up O. Mojica, to suggest intent. GET N TIPSY must return to a top effort though has not shown to be off-form as of late and not a tall ask for peak effort here noting races/figures on par as a contender in line with their main rivals.

That includes #10 SUPRISE ME AGAIN a massive upgrade with the change in class, a key DROP that is not concerning given the races this season and timing towards the end of the meet. They ran for a tag back in June while on the main track a B+ OptixGRADE earned for that win and overcoming the X_FLOW (Very Slow early/late) dynamic. The overall class edge is notable and in comparison to former stablemate #5 DEAL’EM AND WEEP one that has already proven competitive at this level and more so than the outcome on 10/2 with the B- OptixGRADE and subtle trip – SLOG/TROUBLE_S MOVE behind flow-aided (Slow/Very Slow) BOS SAVED winner, #3 DESERT GLOW.

Hawthorne Race 7

Post Time 5:43 PM CST

Analysis by Emily Gullikson

The subtle trips this year and timing wheeling back off the claim should see #1 SHARP STICK hold current form (Surface/Distance Q1 Square) for the new connections and in this spot. They have the notable trips going back to the start of the meet in allowance company and an EX – EXCUSE in May. The “excuses” were less-so since, though still not ideal scenarios including the 10/9 grass start with the TACTIC and TROUBLE_S while coming off an X_WIDE MOVE trip behind their at the time stablemate winner, Hawks Creek.

SHARP STICK should hold value in here and value with a similar Surface/Distance Plot position/shape to rival #7 ARROMAX one that looks to get attention from the connections and figures while in the second start of the meet and credible 9/28 effort making an inside/SAVED MOVE and continued to GALLOP+ out to run on past the wire in a race with the pacesetters running 1-2 including open length pacesetting winner, Skip The Line.

#2 CRECENCIO used a similar form cycle pattern leading into the 9/2 start at TDN and upgraded with that pattern in play. They find the change in class, surface distance and timing, a subtle second-off to suggest they are sitting and potentially returning to a peak effort.

A similar upgrade could follow #5 ROCKET HOTSHOT while overlooked off the recent running lines and finishing positions. Today’s par is a massive change from three recent events and returns to a similar par from the start on 5/18, a favorable outcome picking up the win.

A big change in par/class also notable to #6 CONI’S COUP and could be the key change they require. Their figures from the races this season already stack up on par and in terms of the Plot position, and more so in this case the Large Circle – something that can be attributed to taking part chasing the Very Fast (early/late) pace on 8/24 and similar contentious paces on 7/17 and 10/9 while given some excuse returning from the layoff going back to 6/5 very fractious in the GATE potentially losing their race before it started.

Hawthorne Race 8

Post Time 6:13 PM CST

Analysis by Emily Gullikson

#5 ANTHONY THE GREAT finds the change in class dropping to the MCL level for the first time and that change over many of today’s rivals already runners that have been in for a tag. ANTHONY THE GREAT should move up on that change and present early speed, though will be tested to carry that speed, stretching out for the first time.

Similar distance hurdles for #3 STORMY ATTACK and while they have run for the claiming tag, it was just the one start back on 7/5 with the layoff they return from here that followed, a given another look with that change in class, circuit and potential intent for the connections as well. #8 TONKA TROUBLE also second start in at the MCL level and perhaps their day for intent. That appeared to be less the case returning from the 546-day layoff earlier this month and behind open length even money chalk stablemate winner, Charley Pride.

As far as “proven” #7 CASH APP MIKE has consistently fired this season and at the right level for their abilities. While perhaps giving up some of the edge on class to the “new faces” they have the surface/distance experience along with recent form and figures on par. CASH APP MIKE bringing in that established form though not quite the career maiden status of #1 GOOD YEGG and shipper #6 MORE MONEY MO will look to reverse today as they show up on this circuit and back to the grass for the first time in 2025.

Hawthorne Race 9

Post Time 6:43 PM CST

Analysis by Emily Gullikson

#4 HIGHWOOD wheels back under similar conditions though perhaps upgrade on timing second start back off the layoff. Their overall form, figures and runstyle/Plot fit the race on 10/5, though from the layoff had the addition of front wraps for the first time and might suggest needing the start. That is something to look for today, though outside of that bring fitness from the WIDE trip while making a MOVE following the TROUBLE_S and RUSH into an honest early pace.

#5 TIME BREAK finds the change in class return coming back to this circuit second off the claim and back to where they were competitive, B- OptixGRADE (with a higher par) on 9/21. In addition to the placement and timing, perhaps a further upgrade with a subtle change in post position. Something that could also to track outside horses, a trip not always possible this year with the inner posts, though going back to the competitive races in prior seasons (2022-23) was able to track successfully.

Trainer J. Berndt has been sending out live runners as of late and including #3 KIND KISMET in that sample as they wheel back in a week from the 10/19 win. They will be tested with the rise, some value required coming in Below- on Class (and Below on Plot) something that might not be the case with the recent “1” sitting on top of the standard past performances. In terms of stablemate, #7 ISLAND BENDER they also require some price compensation though could be overlooked of the two. They should be sitting on an improved effort second off and conditioning on the turf last month, with intent present, while holding similar competitive efforts and common races with KIND KISMET during the CBY season.

Looking at the Plot and with High-5 finale wagering tough to dismiss #6 FOXY ZORRA from getting in the mix though could be favored coming off the place finish and that outcome one of the more competitive; again of races sitting on top of the standard past performances. Their position/shape on Surface/Distance is in line with KIND KISMET as well as #9 SHE STOPPED SHORT, one that of the group is the most likely to be dismissed.

SHE STOPPED SHORT looked to have lost her race, WASTED energy before getting to the gate on 10/12 something that might have impacted here overall and greater than the turf, though that footing will likely be to blame. SHE STOPPED SHORT broke SLOG and out of position behind the eventual LONE/pacesetting winner, Hialeah Hottie.

Handicapping Analysis
Sun October 26th, 2025

Jim's Picks

Hawthorne Race 1
Post Time 2:43 PM CST

Analysis by Jim Miller

5 Voodoo Lady - 3/1 | 4 Carpet Queen - 7/2 | 7 Candy Talking - 6/1

Hawthorne Race 2
Post Time 3:14 PM CST

Analysis by Jim Miller

4 Mom's Palace - 2/1 | 7 Buttons and Lace - 7/5 | 6 Miss Mikos - 4/1

Hawthorne Race 3
Post Time 3:44 PM CST

Analysis by Jim Miller

3 Spirited Anne - 7/2 | 2 Quick Sand - 5/2 | 1 Tiz China - 4/1

Hawthorne Race 4
Post Time 4:14 PM CST

Analysis by Jim Miller

1 Uncashed - 5/2 | 6 Devil's Tower - 3/1 | 5 Sir Sterling - 9/2

Hawthorne Race 5
Post Time 4:46 PM CST

Analysis by Jim Miller

5 Silver Quarters - 6/1 | 12 Even the Wind - 7/2 | 1 River Redemption - 5/1

Hawthorne Race 6
Post Time 5:13 PM CST

Analysis by Jim Miller

3 Desert Glow - 4/1 | 4 April's Gem - 5/1 | 10 Suprise Me Again - 3/1

Hawthorne Race 7
Post Time 5:43 PM CST

Analysis by Jim Miller

2 Crecencio - 6/1 | 6 Coni's Coup - 7/5 | 7 Arromax - 5/1

Hawthorne Race 8

Post Time 6:13 PM CST

Analysis by Jim Miller

5 Anthony the Great - 3/1

6 More Money Mo - 7/2

7 Cash App Mike - 5/2

Hawthorne Race 9

Post Time 6:43 PM CST

Analysis by Jim Miller

6 Foxy Zorra - 7/2

8 Anna After Midnite - 6/1

7 Island Bender - 4/1

Handicapping Analysis
Sun October 26th, 2025

Ron's Picks

Hawthorne Race 1

Post Time 2:43 PM CST

Analysis by Ron Uchman

2 Cloudy Lass - 5/2 | 5 Voodoo Lady - 3/1 | 4 Carpet Queen - 7/2

2-CLOUDY LASS ran well in both starts, improving somewhat in her second start. But she had a couple sharp drills since her last race. Could be ready to kick it into another gear. Trainer Larry Rivelli has a pair of first timers in here. 5-VOODOO LADY seems the quicker of the two but she had about seven weeks between her last two workouts. However, at this short sprint distance, it might not matter as much. 4-CARPET QUEEN has been working more consistently but maybe not quite as fast as her stablemate. Guess we'll see.

Hawthorne Race 2

Post Time 3:14 PM CST

Analysis by Ron Uchman

4 Mom's Palace - 2/1 | 7 Buttons and Lace - 7/5 | 1 Hot T'mater - 15/1

I'm guessing we'll be back on turf today and I would expect 4-MOM'S PALACE to be awfully tough on the lawn. She looks like the quickest by far and she has been very good in Indiana turf sprints against some top-notch trainers. This will be her first time meeting Illinois breds. Don't think she'll get caught. But, if any of these can run her down, it would most likely be 7-BUTTONS AND LACE. She has turned into a big-time closer and she just finished third, facing the boys, in the $150,000. But, because she comes from so far behind, and this race is so short, she might never get into full stride before she runs out of real estate. 1-HOT T'MATER has had two turf races and ran well in both of them, including a six-length victory the last time she tested the weeds. Don't think she's nearly as quick as top choice but she's probably the second best speed and could lead the second tier all the way around.

Hawthorne Race 3

Post Time 3:44 PM CST

Analysis by Ron Uchman

6 Dixi So Fast - 5/1 | 3 Spirited Anne - 7/2 | 1 Tiz China - 4/1

It's pretty common for many 2-year-olds to go for the lead in their races until they figure who they are. This race is no exception. I expect there to be a heated fight for the front end. 6-DIXI SO FAST might be able to take advantage. She's making only her second start but she did win her debut and runners from her barn generally improve as they gain experience. Might be able to run them down again. As is often the case, Rivelli has a par of runners in this race and both are likely contenders. 3-SPIRITED ANNE won a maiden claimer on turf to start her career but then shipped to Indiana and finished third in a $100k Indiana-bred stakes race. This is far from an easy field but she might be meeting easier than she did in that race. 1-TIZ CHINA ran well in all three races, winning the one and finishing second in the other two. Has good speed and the rail. Should be right there throughout.

Hawthorne Race 4

Post Time 4:14 PM CST

Analysis by Ron Uchman

6 Devil's Tower - 3/1 | 1 Uncashed - 5/2 | 2 Doctor Oscar - 5/1

Terrific race. Every runner in here is capable of going for the lead and every runner in here has a legitimate chance to win. 6-DEVIL'S TOWER just missed wiring the field in last in Ohio but it's his ability to come on late, with all the other speed in here, that makes him especially dangerous. 1-UNCASHED is certainly fast but he is almost certainly going to be pressured on the front end. He's won 10 of his 21 races, including five of 12 this year. He's going to be favored to win his sixth of the year and could easily deserve it. 2-DOCTOR OSCAR is worth another look. He hasn't won in a couple years but he often races against very tough fields. One thing going for him is that he gets to race back on Lasix today and that could enhance his chances.

Hawthorne Race 5

Post Time 4:46 PM CST

Analysis by Ron Uchman

4 Happy Cat - 8/1 | 5 Silver Quarters - 6/1 | 7 Eye Dee Kay - 6/1

Unlike many races, this field appears to contain far more closers than those likely to display early speed. So, I am going to select the runner who seems most likely to go for the front end. 4-HAPPY CAT from claimed from a win in last and moves up in class but he always raced on a tougher circuit, his barn does well with their first-time claims, and, maybe most importantly, he might get the lead to himself. 5-SILVER QUARTERS is probably the best of the closers. This race could be too short for him but he does have a win at the distance. However, he'll need the help of some of his rivals pressuring top choice on the front end to have the best chance. If this race did get moved to the main track, 7-EYE DEE KAY would probably be awfully tough to beat.

Hawthorne Race 6

Post Time 5:13 PM CST

Analysis by Ron Uchman

10 Suprise Me Again - 3/1 | 3 Desert Glow - 4/1 | 9 Oh Macarena - 9/2

10-SUPRISE ME AGAIN drops many levels. It is a little surprising because she has been running competitively in allowance company. Especially like that she runs well on turf or dirt. Think she'll be extremely tough on either surface. 3-DESERT GLOW won her local debut at this level two races back and went on to take on tougher in her next start and showed early speed but faded to third. But she's dropping back to the right level and appears to be the best speed once again. Don't know if she can hold off top choice but could easily be the best of the rest. 9-OH MACARENA couldn't make a dent in allowance company in last race but she had three wins and a narrow loss for second in her previous four races versus claimers. She's more versatile than most which probably enhances her chances.

Hawthorne Race 7

Post Time 5:43 PM CST

Analysis by Ron Uchman

6 Coni's Coup - 7/5 | 2 Crecencio - 6/1 | 3 Canyon Shadows - 6/1

Not in love with 6-CONI'S COUP but he is dropping to his lowest level ever and there doesn't appear to be a lot of competition. 2-CRECENCIO got trounced in last but that race was on turf. He had a similar outcome the last time he raced on the weeds. He's back on dirt for this race and he's among the quickest of these. Could be on the pace throughout. It's been a long time since 3-CANYON SHADOWS showed much but, like top choice, he'll be meeting his easiest field ever. Found the right spot to wake up.

Hawthorne Race 8

Post Time 6:13 PM CST

Analysis by Ron Uchman

5 Anthony the Great - 3/1 | 7 Cash App Mike - 5/2 | 8 Tonka Trouble - 8/1

5-ANTHONY THE GREAT seems to hold a considerable speed advantage and he's dropping into maiden claimers for the first time. However, he did back up pretty badly in his last two races and he will be stretching out for the first time. Could get caught. 7-CASH APP MIKE is versatile and in good form. He finished in the money in his last three at this level. It would be no surprise if this was graduation day. 8-TONKA TROUBLE finished far back in both races but he does have good speed and a great turf pedigree. His barn does well with runners going from dirt to turf. Might be worth a look.

Hawthorne Race 9

Post Time 6:43 PM CST

Analysis by Ron Uchman

6 Foxy Zorra - 7/2 | 9 She Stopped Short - 8/1 | 7 Island Bender - 4/1

6-FOXY ZORA could get the right trip. She owns decent speed but think there are others in here quicker. But she does finish better than most. Can zip by late. Like top choice, 9-SHE STOPPED SHORT will do her best running late. She wasn't a fan of the weeds in last and she was in too tough in her previous start but she's back on the right surface and dropping to the right level. 7-ISLAND BENDER drops and gets first Lasix. She's quick from the gate. Might lead throughout.